JEFFREY SOBEL
EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP VALUE PROPOSITION

Old Bridge, NJ | +1 908) 692-6022 | jessassociates@optonline.net | linkedin.com/in/jeffrey-michael-sobel

CHIEF COMMERCIAL OFFICER | COMMERCIAL GROWTH, MARKET EXPANSION & REVENUE STRATEGY

40+ Years of Commercial Leadership Experience | Revenue Growth | Market Expansion | Strategic Partnerships Go-to-Market Strategy | Enterprise Sales | Technology Commercialization | Commercial Operations & Growth

LEADERSHIP IDENTITY

I am a commercially focused executive and growth leader with 40+ years of experience driving revenue growth, developing markets, and turning strategic opportunities into measurable business results. My leadership combines commercial strategy, go-to-market execution, market development, relationship building, and organizational growth across technology and emerging-growth businesses.

I have worked closely with founders, CEOs, and senior leadership teams to turn business priorities into practical commercial strategies. I bring a builder's mindset focused on creating market opportunities, strengthening strategic partnerships, and developing the commercial capabilities needed to drive sustainable revenue growth and long-term business value.

UNIQUE VALUE DRIVERS

- Commercial Growth & Revenue Creation: Advised 20+ startups and emerging companies, contributing approximately $100M–$150M in cumulative revenue growth through market expansion, commercialization, distribution, and revenue-generation strategies.
- Go-to-Market & Commercialization: Proven ability to translate technology and business opportunities into scalable go-to-market strategies across enterprise, B2B, retail, e-commerce, and distribution channels.
- Strategic Partnerships & Market Access: Builds high-value relationships with enterprise buyers, distributors, retailers, technology companies, strategic partners, founders, and senior executives to expand market reach and accelerate growth.
- Growth-Stage Leadership & Scaling: Experienced in building sales teams, strengthening commercial infrastructure, developing market strategies, and helping growth-stage organizations create the people, processes, and capabilities required for sustainable expansion.

PROVEN IMPACT

40 Years	$100M–$150M	33%
Driving commercial growth, revenue generation, market expansion, technology commercialization & strategic partnerships	Cumulative revenue growth across 20+ startups through commercialization, distribution & market expansion	Generated through Northeast sales leadership, channel development & market expansion.

I bring 40+ years of commercial leadership across technology and growth-stage businesses. Since 1992, I have advised more than 20 companies, contributing approximately $100M–$150M in cumulative revenue growth. Earlier in my career, I contributed to $20M+ in sales at Star Micronics, helped drive Toshiba America to approximately $15M–$27M in sales by year three, and generated approximately $3M–$5M at Fujitsu America through channel expansion. Since 2022, I have led commercial growth and go-to-market strategy at iPowerUp, continuing to build revenue opportunities, expand markets, develop strategic partnerships, and drive measurable business growth.

ALIGNMENT TO TARGET ROLE

- Commercial Strategy & Revenue Growth: Brings 40+ years of experience developing revenue strategies, identifying growth opportunities, and converting commercial priorities into measurable business results.
- Market Expansion & Go-to-Market: Proven ability to launch and commercialize technology products, expand distribution, enter new markets, and build scalable go-to-market strategies.
- Strategic Partnerships & Enterprise Relationships: Extensive experience developing relationships with enterprise buyers, distributors, retailers, technology companies, founders, and senior executives to accelerate market access and revenue growth.

TARGET TRAJECTORY

I see the Chief Commercial Officer opportunity as a natural next step in my more than 40 years of experience building revenue, developing markets, commercializing technology, and leading growth initiatives.
I bring a hands-on commercial leadership style focused on identifying growth opportunities, expanding market access, building strategic partnerships, and turning business strategy into measurable results. I am particularly motivated by organizations entering a new stage of growth where strong commercial leadership can accelerate revenue, strengthen market position, and build a scalable foundation for long-term success.
If selected, I would bring a clear focus on revenue growth, global market expansion, strategic partnerships, go-to-market execution, and building a high-performing commercial organization while working closely with the CEO and leadership team to create lasting business value

- Creating a clear commercial growth agenda. I would work with executive leadership to identify the most significant revenue and market opportunities and translate those priorities into an actionable commercial strategy.
- Strengthening the route to market. I would focus on evaluating customer segments, enterprise opportunities, partnerships, channels, and geographic markets to create the strongest possible pathways for sustainable growth.
- Building strategic relationships. I would bring my experience developing trusted relationships with customers, partners, and senior stakeholders to help expand market access and create new commercial opportunities.
- Developing a scalable commercial organization. I would focus on building the people, processes, accountability, and commercial discipline necessary to support growth as the organization expands.
- Connecting strategy to execution. Above all, I would bring a practical leadership style focused on turning strategic opportunity into measurable action, commercial momentum, and business performance.

EXECUTIVE VALUE STATEMENT

I am a commercial growth executive who builds markets, creates opportunities, and turns strategy into revenue. my value comes from more than 40 years of experience across technology commercialization, market expansion, strategic partnerships, channel development, sales leadership, and growth-stage businesses. I have consistently helped organizations create momentum, strengthen their commercial direction, and develop practical pathways to growth.
For a Chief Commercial Officer role, I bring a builder's mindset the ability to identify opportunities, develop the right relationships, strengthen go-to-market execution, and build the commercial capabilities needed for sustainable growth.
My goal is to help transform commercial opportunity into a scalable growth engine, increasing revenue performance while strengthening market position, partnerships, and long-term business value.

EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP CONTRIBUTION

I bring a practical, hands-on approach to commercial leadership and believe sustainable growth comes from connecting strategy with disciplined execution. Throughout my career, I have helped organizations identify opportunities, enter new markets, strengthen customer and partner relationships, and build the commercial capabilities needed to support growth.
Whether serving in a Chief Commercial Officer or Chief Revenue Officer capacity, I would bring a clear focus on creating measurable commercial momentum while helping the organization build for the future. My approach is centered on understanding the market, identifying the strongest growth opportunities, aligning the right people and resources, and turning strategic priorities into meaningful business results.
If selected, I would bring:

- A growth-oriented leadership mindset focused on identifying and pursuing meaningful revenue opportunities.
- Strategic commercial perspective grounded in more than 40 years of market development, sales leadership, and technology commercialization.
- Strong relationship-building capabilities to develop partnerships and connect with customers, senior stakeholders, and strategic decision-makers.
- Hands-on execution to translate commercial strategy into actionable plans and measurable outcomes.
- A commitment to building sustainable growth, including the people, processes, partnerships, and commercial infrastructure needed for long-term success.

LEADERSHIP IDENTITY

My leadership approach is built around understanding where the greatest opportunities exist and creating a clear path to capture them. I believe effective commercial leadership requires both strategic vision and a willingness to remain closely connected to customers, markets, partnerships, and the realities of execution. I bring an approach that emphasizes clarity, accountability, collaboration, and measurable results. I work to align commercial strategy with broader business objectives while ensuring that growth initiatives are practical, focused, and capable of producing sustainable outcomes. My experience has taught me that successful growth is rarely driven by one initiative alone. It comes from bringing together the right strategy, relationships, market positioning, talent, and execution discipline to create lasting commercial momentum.

STRATEGIC PRIORITIES I WOULD FOCUS ON

In a Chief Commercial Officer or Chief Revenue Officer role, I would focus on several priorities that can strengthen both near-term performance and long-term business value:

- Revenue Acceleration: Identifying the most meaningful opportunities to strengthen customer acquisition, expand existing relationships, and create new sources of revenue.]
- Market Expansion: Evaluating new markets, customer segments, channels, and strategic opportunities that can expand the organization's reach and growth potential.
- Strategic Partnerships: Building relationships and alliances that create greater market access, strengthen the customer value proposition, and support scalable growth.
- Go-to-Market Execution: Ensuring that commercial strategy is supported by clear priorities, strong market positioning, effective sales execution, and disciplined performance management.
- Commercial Organization Development: Building and supporting high-performing teams with the structure, accountability, and leadership needed to execute successfully.

LEADERSHIP COMMITMENT

My goal is not simply to manage an existing commercial organization, but to help create the next phase of growth. I bring the perspective of a commercial builder someone who understands how to recognize opportunity, create market momentum, develop strong relationships, and turn ideas into revenue-producing results.

I am prepared to partner closely with the CEO, executive leadership team, and key stakeholders to strengthen commercial performance, expand market opportunities, and create lasting value for the organization, its customers, and its stakeholders.

I bring the experience, commercial perspective, and commitment to execution needed to help turn opportunity into growth and growth into long-term business value.